About Me

I am a front-end web developer with a unique perspective on development because of my background in design. I am passionate about the web and all the great things you can make on it. I'm almost always glued to my computer for either work or play, but I also love my cats, drawing, and cooking.

What I've Done

front-end developer/ui designer @ Twenty Over Ten

Jul '19 - present

I work directly with clients all over the world in a compliance regulated industry to design and develop custom websites. I start by getting to know each client and their goals and using that information to design a website tailored to their needs. Then, I develop sites in our proprietary CMS using semantic HTML, CSS, and jQuery. I recently spearheaded a company wide project to research, develop, and implement WCAG 2.0 AA standards across our entire platform.

front-end developer @ Darkspire Media

Jul '18 - June '19

I created WordPress sites focused on the customer, making the web experience easy and customizable even for non tech savvy clients. I always created a custom theme for each project with custom fields (ACF), PHP, HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. My motto was "nothing hardcoded", meaning, completely personalized sites that give full control to the client.

front-end developer @ Push Digital

As the company's sole developer I was responsible for time management, coordinating with project managers, developing and deploying websites, including DNS management and securing sites with SSL. I created WordPress sites for a wide variety of clients such as non profits, small to large businesses, and political campaigns.
